we provide a service that is personal,
professional and always of the highest standard

At every stage, from helping you plan your event through to clearing away all our equipment afterwards, we provide a service that is personal, professional and always of the highest standard. That is why so much of our business comes from personal recommendations from our many satisfied customers.

Customers like our quality – our marquees are always in excellent condition and the same goes for all the furniture, lighting and other equipment we offer.

Customers like our prices – we are competitive and will match or improve on another like-for-like quote. We are also open about our prices – unlike most marquee companies, we publish them so you can compare us with others.

Customers like our flexibility – we are not Monday-to-Friday people so we will be there when you need us.

Customers like our speed and efficiency – our teams pride themselves in quickly putting up and taking down marquees.

Customers like our resourcefulness – we love a challenge so difficult sites with slopes, uneven ground and obstacles are no problem.

Our careful planning and meticulous attention to detail will ensure that your special event is remembered for all the right reasons.

We are unusual among marquee companies in that we offer both traditional-style marquees and modern frame marquees, but whichever you choose, you will receive our high standard of service.
